

GENERATING BUSINESS LEADS

If you operate a UK removals company and would like to use our services, we welcome you to sign up to:

www.quotemeremovals.co.uk

enquiry@quotemeremovals.co.uk

We don't just see ourselves as a removal quote provider; we see ourselves & all of our clients as being part of a 'removals community' where we can share ideas and knowledge.

We have a forum where clients can share their ideas and suggest ways that we can improve on our service as we are always striving to provide a top quality service for you & your potential customers.

Sign up and see how we can benefit you & your business!

Generating Business Leads for The Removal Trade

- Registering with us is free! No sign-up costs or hidden fees.
- Your first 10 removal quotes are free; this gives you a chance to try our removal quote service at no cost or risk.
- Free support & help setting your account up.
- You can pause or cancel the removal quote service at any time.
- If you link back to us from your website we will even credit your account £10 which could be another 10 free removal quotes!

Questions & Answers

Q: Can I try your removal quote service before making any commitments?

A: YES. There are no sign-up fees & your first 10 removal quote requests are free, so you can try out our removal quote service at absolutely no cost.

Q: Can I easily close my account if I'm unhappy with the service during the trial period?

A: YES. You can easily cancel the service at any time during the trial period but we feel confident that after you've tried our removal quote service that you'll be happy to stay with us, in which case you don't need to do anything, just continue with the service.

Q: How long does it take for my application to be processed?

A: We will process your application as soon as possible & you should hear back from us within 24 hours.

Q: Do you promote/advertise your website to get more visitors?

A: YES. We invest a lot of time & money to give our website a good web presence, using search engine optimisation & standard advertising.

Q: In what ways do you promote my removals business?

A: We will list your business in our removals directory and will have your own company page which you can edit yourself from your control panel. If you have a website, the links back to your website will boost its search engine ranking. Our web developer will be happy to help you promote your removals business, from helping you create a new website, improvements on your current website or just general help promoting your removals business online.

Q: How much does each removal quote cost me?

A: We have a flexible pricing system, starting from just £1.00 for house moves & £3.00 for commercial moves. If you are in a busy area like London, you can offer to pay more for each lead as paying a higher fee will guarantee that your company is shown in the quote results. Also, the higher your quote fee the higher your quote will be displayed in the results.

Flexible quote pricing explained

Quote fees start from £1.00 for home removal leads & £3.00 for business removal leads.

Customers are quoted by a maximum of 5 removal companies.

If you operate in a competitive area (e.g. London) you are effectively 'bidding' for the leads.

The higher you set your quote fee the more likely you will be of getting the lead.

If you are in a quieter area then you should get all your leads at £1.00 with no need to raise your fee.

We supply tools to let you know the minimum fees required for each postcode area & enable you to run test quotes so you can see how your company performs in the quote process.

The system is totally flexible, easy to use & you can change your fee setting at any time.

Join now to guarantee your chosen postcodes and receive your leads for £1.00

The busier we get the more likely you will have to raise your quote fee for in demand areas!

Q: How much control do I have for my account?

A: You will get a password protected control panel where you can control all aspects of your account.

Control panel features:

- Edit your account information.
- Edit your removal quote pricing structure, including the maximum volume that you want to quote for. (Ideal for small companies or man-and-van businesses).
- Easy quote pricing set-up.
- Choose if you want to quote for home or business moves, or both.
- Full/easy control over the postcodes that you want to quote for.
- Change how much you're willing to pay for each lead.
- Easily upload a logo or company image to be displayed in your public listings.
- We provide you with the code for a link back to us that contains your unique ID number, so if you refer a customer to us, you will get your lead for free and also be the first removal quote on display.
- Ability to view the removal quote process in "test mode" so you can see what the customer sees and see how your removal quotes are displayed.
- User forum to network with other companies and participate in discussions.

Q: What do you do to prevent me getting charged for false removal quote requests?

A: When a removal quote is requested the customer needs to validate their email address before we process & display the removal quotes, this should prevent casual form filling & will prevent duplicate entries. If a removal quote request is reported to us as being false we will investigate and will delete the removal quote from the system if we find it is false & you won't be charged.

Q: How do I pay for my leads?

A: Invoices are emailed/posted to you on the 28th of every month. You have the ability to pay online direct from your account page.

Q: Can I stop the removal quote service at any time?

A: YES. You can stop & restart the removal quote service whenever you want from your control panel.

Q: What do I get for adding a link back to your website?

A: If you add our link to your site any leads that originated from your site will be at no cost to you. When a link back has been added & verified we will even credit your account £10.00 so that's potentially 20 free quotes before you even start paying anything!

www.quotemeremovals.co.uk

enquiry@quotemeremovals.co.uk